Chrysler and John L. Lewis, resuming conferences at Lansing in an effort to end the Chrysler automobile strike, made some progress, but a settlement appeared likely to wait until after Michigan's State elections Monday, in which sit-downs are a political issue. Page 1. Ford strike at Kansas City was settled after company officials and union leader flew together from Detroit to hold parleys. Men ended sit-down as conferences began. Page 37. The strike in General Motors plants in Flint ended, with 15,000 workers scheduled to return tomorrow under an agreement for a general - wage adjustment. Bright headlights on lighted sections of Westchester parkways have recently been banned. Detroit officials point to the great preponderance of night accidents. Of forty pedestrians killed in Connecticut in January and February, the Governor's Commission of Safety pointed out last week, thirty-four were struck at dusk or after dusk. High-way lighting as a possible solution is discussed in the following article.
